

Berkshire Botanical Garden: What's in Bloom

Early Spring 2019

Are you curious about plants to enjoy during a cold early spring? Here are some that can be enjoyed at the Garden right now. Feel welcome to come and explore the grounds and the greenhouses even though the Visitors Center is still closed.

Spring Bloom

Anemone blanda – Grecian Windflower

Eranthis hyemalis – Winter Aconite

Galanthus nivalis – Snowdrop

Hamamelis x intermedia 'Diane' - Witchhazel

Hamamelis x intermedia 'Arnold Promise' – Witchhazel

The Living Wall

Adiantum capillus-veneris – Southern Maidenhair Fern

Chlorophytum comosum 'Reversed' – Variegated Spider Plant

Cyclamen purpurascens – Alpine Cyclamen

Epipremium aureum 'Neon' – Pothos

Nephrolepis exaltata 'Emerald Vase' – Dwarf Boston Fern

Pteris cretica 'Albo-lineata' - Variegated Cretan Brake Fern

The Fitzpatrick Greenhouse

Begonia palmata – Large Palmate-leaf Begonia

Clivia miniata – Clivia Lily

Euphorbia characias ssp. wulfenii – Mediterranean Spurge

Rosmarinus officinalis - Rosemary

Watsonia vanderspuyiae 'Bergsuurkanol' – Bugle Lily

Watsonia laccata – Bugle Lily

Watsonia aletroides – Bugle Lily

